

Sentiment Analysis

The Python model reads dataset and classifies movie reviews based on the presence of words in the review. The model uses decision tree to classify if the review is positive or negative.

How to use the Python model

Upload the Python file to google colab and run.